Do you or have you been seeing red in your lawn? Every June lawns all over Pennsylvania break out in a rash of red blotches. This is most likely the annual occurrence of two colorful Turfgrass diseases called Red Thread and Pink Patch. Red Thread is caused by a fungus that forms, attaching itself to the blades of your grass. Pink Patch is also a fungus that resembles cotton candy. Red Thread and Pink Patch typically develop in late Spring or early Summer when air temperatures are 65 to 75 degrees, and during periods of rainy or humid weather.

We've seen a few cases of Red Thread and Pink Patch this Spring. Lawns that have never been fertilized are much more susceptible to these fungus, however fertilizer will not provide 100% control over catching this fungus.

The good news is that Red Thread and Pink Patch are not usually lawn killers. As temperatures warm in Summer, disease symptoms will subside and the lawn recovers. If you're seeing Red Thread or Pink Patch, give Almony's a call or email today.

July Chores:

- * Check your lawn for fungus or animal boring; Now is the time to apply Grub Control
- * Fertilize your Lawn
- * Sharpen your Mower blades
- * Weed your Landscape Beds
- * Treat Ant Hills in Lawn or Landscape Beds

GET TO KNOW...

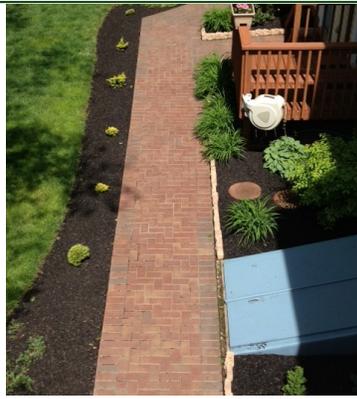

David Almony is a 2001 graduate of Susquehannock High School and a 2003 Graduate of York Technical Institute, with an Associate's Degree in CADD Drafting. He presently resides in New Freedom with his girlfriend Sheenna (pictured together below). Dave enjoys spending time with his friends and family. He enjoys playing pool, video games, wake boarding, and is an avid player of disc golf at Codorus State Park. Dave is very social, so any time he can get out with friends is a good day!

Some of you may wonder...is he a relative? Yes, Dave is one of Brian's younger brothers, however not younger by more than a few years. Since Dave has joined the Almony TEAM, he's continued to grow and learn. Dave's a returning employee with the company and although several years ago may not have been his time, he's now striving to excel in his quality of workmanship and determination. Almony's is looking forward to combining Dave's experience with CADD software with our Landscape Design software to provide clients with a more elaborate and picturesque design proposal on Landscape and Hardscape projects.

Dave returned to the team in March of 2013 and we consider his hard work an asset to the company. Dave is versatile as a crew member on the mowing crew, as well as a team member when called upon for the landscape, hardscape, or excavation crews. He takes direction well and looks forward to completing his tasks. We're happy to have Dave back on the Almony TEAM and look forward to his growth within the company.

THERE SHOULD NEVER BE A DULL MOMENT IN LIFE!

IT'S ALWAYS HUMBLING WHEN WE HAVE A CLIENT WHO IS EXTREMELY SATISFIED WITH OUR SERVICE AND THEIR COMPLETED PROJECT. HERE'S A 'ROOF SHOT' FROM RAY OF HIS NEW SIDEWALK AND FRESHLY MAINTAINED LANDSCAPE BEDS. RAY'S BEEN A WONDERFUL CLIENT OF ALMONY'S FOR OVER TEN YEARS NOW AND WE APPRECIATE HIS SUPPORT TO CONTINUE DOING WHAT WE DO, YEAR AFTER YEAR! THANKS RAY!

Another Happy Client...

Joe purchased this new swing set from Penn Dutch Structures in Spring and had a time frame for installation. He knew where he wanted it and when he needed it ready, he just needed someone who could get it done in time. Almony's worked for Joe to install the playground pad site for the 'big party'. He sent me an email the week after that read something like this: "The most memorable moment throughout all of our party festivities came the day after the party. My four year old Hope, who had noticed all of the work Brian was doing, got to see the swing set delivered and the tent go up; She understood we were doing a lot of 'things' for the party. As we were cleaning up on Sunday, putting the chairs and tables away and taking down the tent, she asked my wife if we could keep the swing set for just one more day. Talk about a memory for a lifetime!" I'm so grateful that we were able to complete this project on schedule for Joe and I hope the rest of his guests were able to enjoy their new swing set as much as his daughter. We wish you many happy memories on your new playground Hope! Thanks Joe!
